Doors open at 8:00 a.m.

Welcome at 9:00 a.m.

9:15 Going Nearly Paperless - How to Get Started

This presentation will focus on organizing your genealogy materials in a manner to quickly and easily find your research notes, photocopies, pictures, and much more. These lessons presented will also apply to most other activities in life. This presentation will also discuss long-term preservation. Life without paper is great!

10:30 Break

11:00 Genealogy Searches on Google - extracting the most genealogy information possible from everyone's favorite search engine. NOTE: There will be no hand-outs for this talk. Audience members need only to remember one thing: up-to-date information is always available at <http://www.google.com>. The PowerPoint slides will be available online.

12:15 Lunch

1:15 The Organized Genealogist - A look at various methods of organizing record keeping by use of digital techniques. This talk focuses on converting paper-based record keeping to all digital records, and preserving the digital records for many more years than is possible with paper, and making sure that information in those publications can be easily searched and retrieved.

2:30 Break

2:45 Using Online Genealogy Programs - (The Next Generation, WebTrees, OneGreatFamily.com, Werelate.org, WikiTree, FamilySearch, etc.) instead of a program installed in your own computer.

4:00 Adjourn

Dick Eastman ...one of genealogy's biggest names will be Seattle Genealogical Society's featured speaker for our 2017 Fall Seminar.

Dick is the author of Eastman's Online Genealogy Newsletter, the leading newsletter for genealogy news and technology tips as well as an internationally renowned speaker on the broad array of topics he covers in his newsletter.

"Eastman's Online Genealogy Newsletter" (EOGN) covers genealogy news, as well as issues of technology, privacy, digital rights, and access as they relate to genealogy. Through his newsletter, Dick share technology "finds" that can help both new and seasoned genealogists, as well as dethroning the scams and shams that can the unwary astray. Today more than 75,000 people read his newsletter and benefit from his reviews and tutorials.

Dick has been honing his vision of the future to improve our picture of the past for the last 35 years. In the mid- 1980's he proposed a genealogy forum: a move by which he built a community of family historians over the next 14 years. At the same time, he preached the benefits of technology to an even wider audience of genealogists, including national and international genealogical organizations, and of course, GENTECH, an organization that helped him to spread his message.

Dick's dedication to clear writing and independent opinion has made him and his periodical a sought-after source of information, commentary, and discussion for twenty years.
